CARNIVAL OF PROPHETS - "Divide the children into small groups and have them visit carnival booths. Rotate booths every 10 minutes. At each booth briefly give the story of a prophet. The remainder of the rotation time is spent playing a carnival type game relating to that particular prophet. Some booth ideas:

Samuel the Lamanite-Knock Nephite bottles off a wall.

Jonah & the Whale-Throw bean bags into a whale.

Adam-Bob for apple cookies tied to a string.

Captain Moroni-Have pillowcase races with a "Title of Liberty"

Spencer W. Kimball-"Lengthen Your Stride" 3-legged race

Helaman's 2000 Warriors-Using helmet, sword and shield have dressing relays.

Joseph in Egypt-Using spoons, have races carrying grain. "Conifer" with most grain wins.

Gordon B. Hinckley- Build temples with blocks on a world map.

Nephi-Have an obstacle course the kids have to run through with the plates of brass."
