

ARTICLE RECITATION

Written by Publisher

ARTICLE RECITATION - "We have given each child in our primary an "Article of Faith Chain". Each month - 6 weeks, we give them a new article to work on, and a fun piece of paper with the next article of faith typed on it. These are in the shape of a chain, and can be connected to the previous article. We encourage the kids to take it home and hang it by their bed and rehearse it daily. We have also allotted a minute in opening exercises to stand and recite the article we're working on, and we have that typed up and taped to a large poster that says "We Believe" on it. The kids like to try and not look at the poster to see if they've got it memorized! It's working out great - even the little ones like it."
